

Environmental Statement

Delta Capita acknowledges that climate change is a crisis. Proactively embedding environmental sustainability into our commercial goals ensures we can continue to grow and succeed in the future. It will also enable us to serve a greater purpose in our local communities and take responsibility for the people who work for and with us, and for our wider environment.

The Covid pandemic highlighted the need to reinvent our approach to real estate. Delta Capita have implemented a hybrid working model that allows our people to work remotely. This significantly reduces our 'scope 3' emissions, which include all indirect emissions in our value chain.

We also commit to a 'net positive' mindset across all our strategies. This means going beyond net-zero emissions to take CO₂ out of the atmosphere — helping repair and regenerate our planet.

In March 2021, we brought all our sustainability efforts under one umbrella and introduced our Global Sustainability Group, a focused body that reviews and challenges our practices from within. This is guided by our Silver status from EcoVadis, one of the world's most trusted business sustainability ratings providers. This places Delta Capita in the top 30% of all companies, we will remain committed to improving our rating.

We are under no illusions about the size of the challenge ahead. But being a purpose-driven organisation is not just the right thing to do. It will lead to long-term value creation for all our stakeholders.

Joe Channer

Chief Executive Officer